Remote courses and activities during COVID-19

About the Recovery College

St Mungo’s Recovery College provides an inclusive learning, training and employment service.

We believe that learning can be a life-changing experience and make a real difference to people’s recovery and wellbeing.

During COVID-19

Following government guidance on social distancing, the Recovery College has suspended face-to-face activities until further notice.

To ensure all St Mungo’s clients have as much support as possible during this time, we are offering a range of remote classes and activities for clients to join either online or over the phone.

What is on offer

We have a range of opportunities available, covering the following topics:

- Health, Wellbeing, and Personal Development
- Arts, Music and Creativity
- Digital Skills and IT
- English and Maths
- Progression Coaching and Employment Support

We have three different ways for you to access these activities:

- One-to-one sessions: Personalised support with a coach or tutor booked in advance (accessed online or over the phone)
- Timetable of scheduled group classes: Sessions at set times led by a tutor and with other students (accessed online or over the phone).
- Remote activities and resources: Activities you can do at your own pace (accessed online or by email).

What you will need

Recovery College activities are free to access and available to St Mungo’s clients in any location. We have tried to make our activities as accessible as possible so everyone can join.

If you have internet access – you can join group activities using a smartphone, laptop or tablet. Before each session, we will send you a Google Hangouts link and instructions to join. We can also help you set up an email account!

If you don’t have internet access – you can join group activities using a mobile phone or landline. Before each session, we will send you a UK number to call and instructions on how to dial in.

Our message to you

To our many new and existing clients, we want to say: We will continue to be here for you throughout this difficult period. We are here to support, uplift and inspire each other, embodying the Recovery College ethos through everything we do.

The Recovery College activities are ready and waiting for you to join anytime. We can’t wait to have you with us!

Ready to get started?
