The Champions of St Mungo’s Giving Circle
We continue to have big dreams for St Mungo’s – not least to help reverse the rise in rough sleeping nationally. But we cannot do this alone.

In 2019, our Champions generously supported our flagship Recovery College, a strategic priority for us in ensuring that people are able to gain the skills to permanently leave the streets behind them. In 2020, the commitment and dedication of our Champions enabled us to remain flexible and agile in our response to the Coronavirus pandemic. Our Volunteer Services team was identified as a priority service during this time, helping hundreds of people to recover from homelessness. With our volunteers contributing over 20,000 hours of support in emergency hotels, we simply could not have achieved all that we did for our clients without our volunteers and the support of our Champions.

In future years, the collective resources from our Champions might be used towards an innovative service, sustaining a vital programme or a capital investment. One thing will remain constant: the services funded by our Champions will be central to achieving our ambitions.

This means our services are able to help even more individuals to permanently leave homelessness behind. I would like to invite you, as one of our most generous supporters, to join The Champions of St Mungo’s Giving Circle, and become a very special partner in our future. I hope you may feel able to do so. Together, we can achieve so much.

With my very best wishes,

Sir Leigh Lewis,
Vice President of St Mungo’s
The Champions of St Mungo’s Giving Circle

Giving Circle members support our strategic priority work; they are our Champions, partnering with us in the areas of homelessness support that are most critical.

By making a three-year commitment with a gift of at least £5,000 per year, you will join a group of committed and influential supporters to help tackle society’s most pressing issues around homelessness.

Giving Circle Champions meet each year to hear exclusive insights into priority homelessness projects. These intimate events provide a space for Champions to connect with one another and to meet members of our senior leadership team and frontline staff. These events also offer the chance to discuss inspirational developments and the tremendous impact of their support.

We strive to:

- Support our Champions to feel confident to advocate for those experiencing homelessness;
- Foster regular engagement with our work that is strategic and meaningful;
- Encourage discussion and collaboration amongst other Champions;
- Inspire our Champions to play an integral role in ending homelessness for good.

“What becomes clear as you understand the work of St Mungo’s is that the margin between managing in life and becoming homeless can be quite small. We were lucky enough to have made the most of living and working in London, and so we wanted to give, and felt St Mungo’s was a good cause as we learned more over time.

Being a member of the Champions group gives St Mungo’s more certainty on funding and for members is a simple way to ensure one makes one’s contribution to such a great cause. The events are a good way to feel part of the St Mungo’s community and hear more of what is going on.”

Chris S, St Mungo’s Champion
Their collective support has meant that:

- Clients have the opportunity to contact friends and family and apply for jobs or benefits, by the provision of two computers;
- Women who have experienced gender-based trauma feel safe in the service, by now having a female only dormitory;
- Independence and home comforts have been created with a fitted out kitchenette, so that people can store and prepare food.

These carefully chosen developments mean that people who have faced the trauma of rough sleeping are now better able to gain the strength and support to embark on their recovery journey, one that will ensure that they leave homelessness behind them for good.

Priority Projects our Champions have supported since 2018

No Second Night Out North Hub Redevelopment in 2018

The most visible form of homelessness is rough sleeping, when people sleep on the street. We know that the streets are a violent and unstable place to live, and the impact can be fatal. Because of this, helping move people off the streets and into safety is a priority. Our emergency No Second Night Out service provides vulnerable individuals with an immediate route away from rough sleeping. In 2018, the Champions generously invested in the vital redevelopment of our No Second Night Out North hub, and transformed the building into a space that supported the psychological needs of some of the most vulnerable people in our community.

The support of the Giving Circle Champions allowed for the service to be developed into a space that is fit for purpose.
The Recovery College helps people to put homelessness behind them for good. It offers participants a wide range of courses to build their self-confidence and explore their interests, as well as offering courses in literacy, numeracy and digital skills. This vital support has continued virtually throughout the Coronavirus pandemic.

In 2019, The Champions of St Mungo’s Giving Circle supported this priority project, which helped 371 people to improve their physical and mental health, skills, and confidence across the year.

The Champions supported:
- 215 people attend arts, culture and creativity sessions;
- 207 people to access support with their health, well-being and personal development;
- 223 people attend literacy, numeracy and digital skills classes, which included sought-after skills in coding, web design and Photoshop.

Thanks to the commitment of our visionary Champions, we have been able to support people to build meaningful lives and to thrive in their communities, with the skills to sustain their independence.
Volunteer Services in 2020

Volunteers play a crucial role in helping people recover from homelessness; their experience, skills and knowledge make a real difference to those who are experiencing some of the darkest times in their lives.

In 2020, the Champions generously supported our Volunteer Services team. This uniquely offered two streams of support under one priority project, creating the agility needed amidst the uncertainty of the pandemic. By supporting this dynamic project, the Champions enabled an emergency response to the trauma of losing one’s home, alongside long-term support for individuals to move away from homelessness for good.

The Champions’ commitment supported a rapid response to those experiencing homelessness in the pandemic, whilst enabling the long-term benefits of access to mental health and education services to continue. As we transition out of the crisis stage of the pandemic, frontline services will continue to rely on volunteers for much-needed additional support.

With the support of the Champions, our Volunteer Services team have successfully:

- Mobilised large numbers of volunteers to provide critical support on the frontline for those experiencing homelessness;
- Developed a Volunteer Development Programme to support volunteers into employment with St Mungo’s, by giving them the skills and experience to achieve this;
- Established a programme of talks and training done remotely, which includes current staff members talking about their previous lived experience of homelessness.

The Champions’ fierce dedication has supported thousands of people off the streets, bringing people indoors to safety and supporting them to find a way out of homelessness for good. It is because of the Champions’ commitment that St Mungo’s has been able to remain agile, quickly adapting to emerging needs during an incredibly uncertain time.

Volunteers contributed 185 hours helping to pack 1,540 boxes of food which provided 32,340 meals for our residents that were self-isolating.
